Wilson Pro Painting is a professional painting company that was inspired from the story of Walter Wilson (grandfather to our founder, Jamie Wilson). Walter Wilson was a painter back in England in the mid 1900s that worked for the city of Hull as a painter. After being a POW in the war, Walter Wilson was unable to pass his driver's test so he rode his bike everywhere to work as a painter. Every morning he would travel to his worksite with his brush in his back pocket, a couple paint cans over the handlebars while carrying a ladder under his arm.

Walter's value of "doing what it takes to get the job done right" are values that Jamie Wilson mirrors and is proud to carry on in his family's legacy.
